

Visiting Kaleideum™

This story will tell me what I will see and do when I visit Kaleideum.

When I walk into the Museum,
the first thing I will do is stand in line with my grownup to pay for our admission at the Welcome Desk.

Next, I will choose what exhibits
I would like to see. I will need to stay with my grownup and use my walking feet in the museum.

Exhibits

An exhibit is a place where I can play, explore, learn, and have fun!

The next pages of this story will teach me more about the exhibits I can see at Kaleideum.

I will remember to follow these rules when I visit
Kaleideum:

- I will stay with my grownup.
- I will use my walking feet.
- I will take turns with other children.
- I will tidy up the exhibits
after I explore them.
- I will be kind to the live animals I see.

By Design

I can see By Design from the Welcome Desk. I can construct a building, code a dance routine or design a tattoo. I can also make designs with magnets on the big wall.

I will then use either the elevator or the pink stairs to go to the second floor.

In Motion

Once on the second floor, In Motion will be the first thing I will see. I can create a roller coaster, build a Lego® race car, use a pulley chair or play with scarves in airways. I will make space for others in here and keep my walking feet on while exploring all there is to see.

There is also a place that will hold surprises for me. My grownup can help me decide if I want to explore the traveling exhibit area when we get here. This exhibit changes throughout the year, but it is always something fun.

Digital Dome

If my grownup agrees, we may see a show in the Digital Dome. It can be dark in here with loud noises and flashing lights, so I will make this choice depending on how brave I am that day.

There is still so much left to explore! We will make our way to the third floor using the elevator or the stairs.

Our Nature

I can visit Huey the Scarlet Macaw, Verde the Iguana, and lots of other animal friends. I can also pretend to be a wildlife veterinarian. I will keep my hands to myself and try not to make loud noises that can scare my new friends.

Storytelling

It is a little darker in here, but I can tell a story with shadow puppets, practice my reading skills and even pretend to be a character in a play while acting on stage.

Wonders of Water

Before I play in here, I will stop and get a poncho to help me stay dry. There is so much to do in here, but the floor can get slippery so I will be sure to walk carefully. I can play with a big block of ice or build forts with Legos® on the water table. I'll be sure to look at the turtles, fish, and even an Axolotl while in here. There is a fog tunnel and a digital aquarium where I can paint my own fish and watch it swim away.

The last place I will explore is the fourth floor, so up we go using either the elevator or the stairs.

Try-It Studio

I can sketch, build, imagine, and play in here. The nice people that work here will help me to understand what activities are going on because they change all the time. I will be sure to listen and follow their directions so I can have fun creating.

Little Learners

If I am very young and still learning to walk, I can play and explore in safety inside this exhibit. I even get to take off my shoes and play like a big kid.

Rooftop Adventure

If it is warm enough, I can play outside on the rooftop playground. There are swings, slides, and things to climb. I need to stay with my grownup because this playground is really large and I don't want to get lost.

If I ever get overwhelmed by the noise or the crowds, there are rooms on every floor where I can go to take a break. I need to tell my grownup when I am needing a break. These rooms are by the bathrooms on every floor.

Leaving Kaleideum

When I am ready to leave, I can leave out of the same doors I came in through by the Welcome Desk.
